

CONTENT

PORTFOLIOS

HORST A. FRIEDRICHS 8

Since 1997, the German photographer has been dipping in and out of the English Mod scene – a youth movement that emerged in 1960s London and reflects a special way of life today. A timeless close up.

FRANCK COURTEL 68

Nezahualcōyotl is Mexico City's largest waste dump. Those who live and work here are of a forgotten people. French photographer Franck Courtel braves the garbage and pays his respects with his lens.

TECH TALK & FIELD PRACTICE

LEICA S2 26

Jean-Jacques Ruchti uses the Leica S system to shoot a reportage on Afghanistan's former secretary of foreign affairs and presidential candidate Abdullah Abdullah.

LEICA X1 34

Compact body, large sensor, universal fixed focal length: first practical impressions of the new X1.

STREET SHOTS 42

Chris Weeks on the fascination of capturing the fleeting moments of everyday life in captivating images using the Leica M rangefinder system.

AVAILABLE LIGHT PHOTOGRAPHY 52

Oliver Rütger encourages us to fully utilise the Leica M system's creative faculties through accepting the light as it is.

LOWER THE NOISE 62

Four applications against digital noise put to the test: Noise Ninja, Dfine 2, Neat Image and Noiseware.

SECTIONS

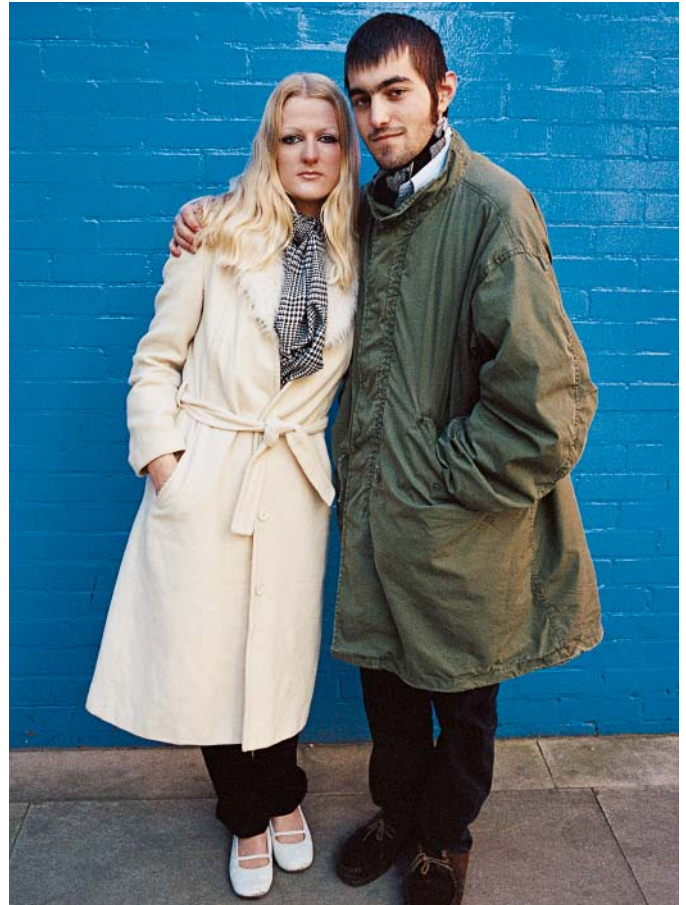

EDITORIAL 4

BOOKS 6

EXHIBITIONS 24

LFI READERS' GALLERY 80

PREVIEW / IMPRINT 82

Horst A. Friedrichs: Birmingham, 2004 (page 8)
New Leica X1 in action (page 34)
Franck Courtel: Nezahualcōyotl, Mexico (page 68)

Horst A. Friedrichs: Jo, Margate, 2004