

4 EDITORIAL
PHOTO SCENE

AP photographer Nick Ut received the Leica Hall of Fame Award on September 17 at Photokina's eve

6 BOOKS

New photo books by Ryan McGinley, Candida Höfer, Elliott Erwitt and Walker Evans

80 EXHIBITIONS

fotofever Brussels & Newtopia – young, aspiring and unconventional, and why Human Rights are still a dream for the future

84 READERS' GALLERY

Red shirt photography taken by LFI readers

86 MY PICTURE

Danish photographer Jacob Aue Sobol speaks about a motif that brought him back to photography

IMPRINT

Cover photo: from the 'Dead Traffic' series by Kim Thue (starting p. 12)

The mining of rare earth metals seems light years away from the high tech products they are needed for (starting p. 26)

8 | Open Minded

Jens Erdman Rasmussen, curator at Det Nationale Fotomuseum in Copenhagen, speaks about the past and present situation of photography in Denmark.

12 | Dead Traffic

Over a decade after the civil war, Danish photographer Kim Thue presents everyday life for youths and their gangs in Freetown, the capital of Sierra Leone.

26 | Price of the Future

The mining of coveted rare earth metals takes place in the furthest reaches of China – a photo reportage by Véronique de Viguerie and Manon Querouil.

38 | No Man's Land

Fences and walls give the world structure yet create a chaotic conglomerate – good enough reason for Robert McCann to photograph them time and time again.

42 | Right Between the Eyes

There are few subjects as captivating for the viewer as the human face. Peer Kugler's straightforward portraits stand out because of their severe and formal emphasis.

76 | Araki: Love by Leica

Love is the force that drives him, leading to both productivity and provocation: Araki, one of the most influential representatives of Japanese photography.

LEICA WORLD

50 A NEW ERA:
THE NEW LEICA M

Leica's flag ship – a camera with tradition and radical new technology

58 THE LEICA M-E

The newest member of the M family: a slimmed-down version of the M9

60 THE LEICA S

At heart unchanged, but with many optimized components

64 NEW S LENSES

Leica expands the S system with 3 new lenses and one ancillary lens

66 THE D-LUX 6

A compact with an extremely fast zoom lens

70 THE V-LUX 4

With everything it takes to be the secret star of Leica's compact range

72 X2 PAUL SMITH

British designer Paul Smith has given the Leica X2 a new outfit

73 X A LA CARTE

One-of-a-kind cameras thanks to a choice of leather coverings and individual engravings

The Leica M with a 24 mega-pixel CMOS sensor (starting p. 50)