Fun and friendship: around 400,000 children in Venezuela learn to make music together at the state-run El Sistema schools (page 14)

14 | Mission Music

Strength through music: all children in Venezuela have the opportunity to learn an instrument. Impressive images of the largest music movement in the world.

28 | Playing Off Side

False promises draw young Nigerians to Istanbul. But, instead of a career in professional football, they have to make do with dull jobs and aimless training.

40 | Ten Years Later

In 2003 Bruno Stevens documented the confusion of war in Iraq. A decade later he returned in search of the same protagonists and locations.

62 | Clear the Ring!

Dizzying heights and sandy circus rings: Marcus Reichmann visited a family circus – putting the X Vario through its paces.

68 | No Man's Land

No country in the world acknowledges Transnistria as a sovereign state. Even so, it has a government, its own money and its own passports. A journey of exploration.

80 | Reporter and Humanist

Commitment and empathy define Thomas Hoepker's work. A portrait of the famous photo journalist who considers himself a 'manufacturer of pictures'.
