

04 EDITORIAL

PHOTO SCENE

The winner of the 2013 World Press Photo Award has been announced in Amsterdam

06 BOOKS

New photo books by Kacper Kowalski, James Whitlow Delano and Inge Feltrinelli

08 TALKING WITH

Min-Jung Jonsson, curator of the Fotografiska museum in Stockholm, about her approach to designing exhibitions

84 EXHIBITIONS

Rob Hornstra captures Sochi's transformation to a global winter sports resort

87 LEICA GALLERY SINGAPORE

An exhibition of works by travel photographer Michael Lee

88 READERS' GALLERY

Lines, people and shadows give structure to LFI readers' images

90 MY PICTURE

Alex Majoli rediscovers a series he took when he was fifteen years old

IMPRINT

Young Ukrainian boxer: Ruslan Khajbullaev, catch-weight 24 kilos, gets final instructions in his corner of the ring (page 70)

12 | A Stage for the Unconscious

The fabulous world of Roger Ballen: intoxicating black and white pictures staged in a Johannesburg slum inhabited by people and animals.

24 | The Green Mile

Despite the heavy levels of radiation, nature reclaims the red zone around Fukushima. Three years after the disaster, evacuees are still living in emergency shelters.

46 | Fair Trade in the Caribbean

Mike Tinney accompanied a group of Slow Food activists who sailed to Grenada aboard a trading ketch, to import natural produce from the island to Great Britain.

50 | The Power of Reduction

With extremely reduced, square format pictures, the Russian photographer Ekaterina Mishchenkova primarily uses herself as her main subject.

70 | Fighting for the Future

In the Ukraine the Klitschko brothers are the best known boxing icons. Many children and youths in the country would like to emulate their success.

80 | Magic Moments

Herbert List went to professional photography quite late in life. Influenced by the New Objectivity of the twenties, he tried to keep a distance from his subjects.

LEICA WORLD

58 IMAGE MANIPULATION

Even documentary photography often gets accused of image manipulation. Are there technical means to distinguish between original and manipulated pictures?

62 MY LENS

Compact and appropriate for many situations: Danny Wilcox Frazier has chosen the Summicron-M 35mm f/2 Asph as his favourite lens.

64 SENSOR FORMATS

People are passionate about the subject of sensor formats. But there is no 'right' one: each format has advantages and disadvantages.

68 NEWS

The launch of new panorama cameras, the 'paper' Leica by Fedrigoni.

Danny Wilcox Frazier prefers to use the Summicron-M 35mm f/2 Asph

Cover photo by Tomás Munita from the Fukushima photo essay