F/STOP

86 | COLOUR FILTERS

What happens when the M Monochrom meets up with colour filters? How precisely does this influence brightness values? About an often welcome, but not always essential, accessory

92 | LEICA M10

A direct comparison between the M10 and its predecessor, the M240, reveals that, despite the slimmer body of the M10, it contains significantly improved electronics

98 | MACRO ADAPTER

Infinitely close: Max Malatesta combines the Macro-Adapter-M and, at times, unusual lenses, to explore his weakness for detail – “to experience an intimate connection with the world”

The M10: slim on the outside, with a significant overhaul of its inner components

Shot from the hip: Tomaso Baldessarini's 28 Millimetre series

Opus Magnum

6 | 70 YEARS MAGNUM PHOTOS

If anything deserves to be called 'legendary', then it is the photo agency that was founded in Paris in 1947

Tomaso Baldessarini

28 | 28 MILLIMETRE

Most of the time he photographs in the studio – but with the Leica Q Baldessarini hit the streets of Manhattan

Danny Wilcox Frazier

40 | TILL DEATH DO US PART

Nearly 60 percent of the Nebraska voters decided for Donald Trump. A photo reportage from Middle America

Fred Herzog

52 | MODERN COLOR

What is the connection between a barber shop and a red stocking? Herzog's exemplary images answer the question

Bil Brown

64 | WEIMAR LOS ANGELES

Delightfully documented or cleverly staged? Presenting a man who set forth to revolutionise fashion photography

Enrique Badulescu

76 | FEAST OF COLOURS

The fashion photographer covered a body painting session organised by New York artist Vicky Steckel

LIGHTBOX

102 | LFI.GALLERY

The LFI Gallery presents over 300 000 images by more than 20 000 photographers. This time, dark silhouettes in New York and surprisingly artistic barrier tape in Sweden
