

PORTFOLIO

F/STOP

86 | BOKEH

Compositional ingenuity, intentional blur, romantic aesthetics, or disruptive, restless textures? We endeavour to clarify an ambiguous term

94 | TECH TALK

From the M8 to the M9 and the M (Typ 240), the sensor of the digital Leica M has been the subject of continual development. A conversation about the evolution of the M sensor

98 | LEICA SL

Always on the lookout for new creative possibilities: We tried out three vintage lenses made by other manufacturers on the Leica SL

The Leica M10: As slender as an analogue M, thanks to its optimised sensor

Blousons Noirs by Yan Morvan – it's all about the pose

Fred Mortagne

6 | STRANGER THINGS

Surrealist and humorous moments in the concrete jungles of Brutalism

Frank Lübke

26 | ME, MYSELF AND I

Who do I want to be and who am I really? Stunning double portraits offer some answers

James Meakin

38 | OFF-ROAD

Somewhere between fashion and reportage – a photo narrative with the grandiose backdrop of Cape Town

Yan Morvan

50 | BLOUSONS NOIRS

Leather jackets, cowboy boots and motorbikes: how wild were youngsters in Paris in the seventies?

Ciril Jazbec

62 | BHUTAN

In search of a way to wind down, the Slovenian photographer travelled to the 'Kingdom of Happiness'

Sabine Weiss

76 | PHOTOGRAPHIE HUMANISTE

Sabine Weiss is considered the Grande Dame of humanist photography: a homage celebrating her 93rd birthday

LIGHTBOX

104 | LFI.GALLERY

Over 23 000 photographers present more than 300 000 images at the LFI Gallery. In this issue: a student looking for meaning, a pedestrian in Paris, and a pink Cadillac

PHOTO

114 | EXHIBITIONS

Brassaï, Arbus and Goldin at the MOCA, Susan Meiselas at the Jeu de Paume in Paris, Lisette Model in Florida and The Shape of Light at the Tate, London

116 | BOOKS

New publications by André Lützen, Andy Richter and Mario Marino, as well as the War Is only Half The Story photo book, documenting the work of the Aftermath Project

117 | LEICA GALLERIES

An overview of the programme of Leica Galleries around the world, including Elliott Erwitt, Tina Trumpp and Maggie Steber

118 | INTERVIEW

Speaking with curators Jóhanna Guðrún Árnadóttir and Kristín Hauksdóttir of the Reykjavík City Museum of Photography

122 | MY PICTURE

Unsuspecting, Emeric Lhuisset approaches an empty swimming pool in Kabul only to realise that it had been used for executions

122 | IMPRINT

COVER PHOTO: Superkilen Public Park, Copenhagen 2017, © Fred Mortagne